

BI24 BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

Total Business Visibility

Delivering Knowledge

Challenges

- Information is fragmented and stored in multiple stores
- Difficult to make decisions when data is not current
- The information cannot be shared across the company
- Mobile working is becoming a challenge
- Accuracy of information is questionable
- Running queries often compromise system performance

BI24 Solutions

- BI24 can pull information from multiple stores and databases
- BI24 can deliver instant reporting on the fly using the latest data
- BI24 can be shared via the browser, tablet or mobile phone
- Staff with internet connection can securely access reports
- BI24 uses search technology to query data directly eliminating network load

In today's competitive business environment there are ever increasing pressures to make accurate, profitable decisions fast. This decision making can sometimes be difficult as most organisations do not have the tools that enable them to do this. BI24 powered by CXAIR from Connexica enables companies to make shared decisions accurately and quickly, enabling you to drive business and so profitability.

As a decision maker you will know that your enterprise has vast amounts of structured and un-structured data located in multiple silos across your company. Your existing systems are probably not linked and the software packages for various company departments are not integrated. The lack of integration creates significant issues in obtaining consistent and accurate information that you need in order to give you total business visibility.

BI24 enables you to address all these issues by delivering a unique business intelligence solution enabling the user to access consistent and accurate information from multiple data silos situated across all your company departments.

The solution enables you to build reports and query data instantly using the latest available information with no need for IT interaction, all this from a solution that is easy to install and significantly more cost effective than other solutions.

Benefits of Solutions

Rapid deployment

BI24 can be deployed within your environment quickly and with very little disruption to your business. We have deployed solutions and delivered full system training in less than 1 working week. On-going management and the creation of new reporting are simple and need very little IT support. One of our key strengths is the fact that users can create new reporting and link data very quickly and easily.

Flexible licensing agreement

The solution can be purchased or rented according to your requirements and can be delivered either on your premise or from our Tier IV hosting centre.

Data discovery simple and intuitive

BI24 is designed to support massive concurrency, high data volumes and high query demands. The solution integrates with all major databases and data sources; and even has the ability to report on email. Once the initial install and training are complete you the client are virtually self-sufficient.

Data can be viewed on devices with a browser or next generation mobiles

BI24 is a 'next generation' solution and so has been built to run through a browser, tablet or mobile device. BI24 creates an environment through a user-friendly graphical interface that provides the power, flexibility, and ease of use to mine data, together with the ability to analyse that data in any form and in any way you wish.

Business visualisation using multiple graph types and dashboards

BI24 comes with the usual views associated with data analysis solutions such as tabular, cross-tabs, and graphs, all of which are fully interactive allowing the user/viewer to drill down into the source data. Sophisticated interactive Venn diagrams enable complex data relationships to be easily viewed and analysed, and BI24 can be configured to deliver visually rich dashboards.
