

C24 thinks a little differently.

Oxford Hotels win for C24

Oxford Hotels selects C24 to handle the hosting of its property management and email systems for its 43 hotels.

September 2009 – Oxford Hotels MHA has announced that C24; the hosting and application delivery specialist has won its account to host its property management and email systems for its group of 43 hotels which includes the world famous Carnostie Hotel which hosted the Open Championship 2007.

The solution provided by C24 will be delivered from its tier 4 data centre and includes full systems hosting, back-up and 24 hour support for its property management and email systems for over 2000 employees, 2000 rooms over 30 counties.

Oxford Hotels required an IT partner that not only had extensive experience in the hosted market, but who also would work alongside Oxford Hotels and Inns to develop an IT platform that would assist in enhancing the “Oxford Experience” for their clients. Oxford chose C24 Ltd to become the partner of choice, based on their experience in the hotel and leisure market place along with their ability to deliver a stable resilient hosted IT infrastructure.

Paul Hemming, Managing Director commented that “I am particularly delighted in this win as I have had a long standing relationship with Oxford Hotels. This win establishes C24 as a business to be reckoned with in the UK hosting industry.”

John Drury of Oxford hotels commented “Our engagement with C24 has provided us with a stable IT architecture upon which we can develop and promote our expanding business”.
